Drama of martial arts and culture – The Invincible Beyond Time

The first-of-its-kind performance that unravels the secrets and myths of Chinese Martial Arts by Wushu Culture Resource

Introduction

Having Martial Arts Culture being recognized as a part of Chinese Intangible Cultural Heritage by the West Kowloon Cultural District (WKCD) Authority, Wushu Culture Resource presents this drama of martial arts and culture, - The Invincible Beyond Time. Performances of such will be scheduled to be shown in the theaters and performance venues of WKCD.

The drama is based on various historical materials of Chinese martial arts development that features 8 schools of martial arts, of which two of them have been listed as Intangible Cultural Heritage of China. It is the first-of-its-kind with both cultural, creative and the martial arts sectors. Audience will be engaged to explore much deeper the embodied Chinese culture values in traditional martial arts, of which the experience will discernibly differentiate from other martial arts performances. Together with the enlightened presentation by comics and animation characters, the substance of the performance will appeal to the tastes of much wider audience from all walks of life.

Plot

Crouching Tiger and Hidden Dragon, the two invincible martial arts masters in their comic setting, landed in Hong Kong caused by time warp. They could not believe that they are just fictional characters, and decided to continue their mission in the comics, to compete for hegemony in the realm of martial arts and defeat all other masters! How will the contemporary martial arts masters they encountered in Hong Kong respond to their provocation? What will be the destiny waiting Crouching Tiger and Hidden Dragon, who do not supposed to exist in the reality?
